Proceedings of Congreſs.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE UNITED STATES.

SATURDAY, September 5.

MR. SENEY, of the committee appointed to take into conſideration the memorial of John White, late continental commiſſioner of accounts for the ſtate of Pennſylvania, and his aſſiſtants, brought in a report, which was in favour of granting the prayer of the memorial.

In committee of the whole on the ſubject of a permanent reſidence.

Mr. Boudinot in the chair.

The reſolutions ſubmitted by Mr. Fitzſimons yeſterday were read and taken into conſideration. Several objections were made to the idea of purchaſing the ſoil for the federal reſidence, as it would ſubject the ſtates to a heavy expence, which might be avoided. The conſtitution, it was ſaid, comtemplated a ceſſion of territory by the ſtates for the purpoſe. To this it was replied, that the word ceſſion referred to the juriſdiction, and not to the ſoil—and examples were adduced to ſhew that ceſſions of territory do not imply any thing more than a transferring of the juriſdiction—as, after ſuch ceſſions, the property of individuals is not changed.

The committee could not agree upon filling up the blank before the word "years" reſpecting the temporary reſidence, five, four, three, two and one, were negatived.—It was at length agreed to paſs it over, and to take it up in the houſe.

The blank before the word "dollars" was filled with ten hundred thouſand—time, to be paid in "twenty years"—intereſt at not more than five per cent. per annum. Theſe reſolutions were then adopted by the committee, and reported to the houſe.

A motion for adjournment being negatived, the houſe proceeded to the conſideration of the report.

Mr. Lee introduced a new preamble as an introduction to this buſineſs—which after ſome diſcuſſion was withdrawn.

The firſt reſolution (Mr. Scott's) was then agreed to by the houſe.

Mr. Lee again propoſed to ſtrike out "eaſt bank of the Suſquehanna" and to inſert "north bank of the Patowmack: This produced further debate, which laſted ſo long as to preclude a deciſion this day.

Adjourned.

MONDAY, September 7.

In committee of the whole on the ſubject of the permanent reſidence.

Mr. Lee's motion in favour of the Patowmack was taken up, and the ayes and noes being called for by that gentleman, the motion was negatived—29 to 21.

Mr. Vining moved to ſtrike out "eaſt bank of the Suſquehanna" and inſert "the borough of Wilmington, in the ſtate of Delaware." He enforced this motion by ſtating the advantages in point of ſituation, healthineſs of climate, proviſions and immediate accommodations; the laſt of which he urged with additional energy, as it would ſuperſede the neceſſity of the great expence attending the Suſquehanna. On this queſtion Mr. Vining called for the ayes and noes, which were, noes 32, ayes 19—ſo the motion was loſt.

Mr. Boudinot brought forward a motion, founded upon ſome reſolutions of the late congreſs reſpecting the permanent reſidence. He went into a general diſcuſſion of the principles that ought to influence congreſs in all its deciſions, more eſpecially on a ſubject of this magnitude and importance. He ſtated a variety of objections to the Suſquehanna, and moved that it be ſtruck out, to inſert Patowmack, Suſquehanna or Delaware: "If this is agreed to, ſaid he, I ſhall move for a committee to go to theſe ſeveral places, that a thorough inveſtigation of the whole buſineſs may be had, previous to a final deciſion.—The ayes and noes being called, there appeared 23 ayes, 28 noes—ſo the motion was negatived.

Mr. Boudinot then moved to inſert "on either ſide the banks of the Delaware, not more than eight miles above or below the lower falls. The ayes and noes being called were, noes 46, ayes 4.

It was then moved, by Mr. Stone, to ſtrike out the word "eaſt" before "bank"—This was determined in the affirmative by a majority of one, the ayes and noes being called.

It was then moved by Mr. Lee to inſert, after the words "Suſquehanna in the ſtate of Pennſylvania" or Maryland. This motion was negatived—ayes 25, noes 26.

Mr. Lee moved to make that part of the reſolution which provided that congreſs remain in New-York till the buildings ſhould be provided on the banks of the Suſquehanna, ſtand as a diſtinct reſolution. This motion was loſt, 24 being for, and 27 againſt it.

Mr. Vining moved that "the borough of Wilmington" be inſerted, as the temporary reſidence of congreſs: This being ſeconded, the ayes and noes were called on the queſtion, which was loſt—ayes 21, noes 30.

Mr. Parker moved to ſtrike out "New-York" and inſert "Philadelphia, as the temporary reſidence. The ayes and noes being called, the ſame was loſt, there being 29 in the negative, and 22 in the affirmative.

A motion for adjournment being put and loſt, the houſe proceeded and completed the reſolutions: The time to be allowed for erecting the buildings is fixed at four years.

A committee conſiſting of Mr. Ames, Mr. Lawrence and Mr. Clymer, was appointed to prepare and report a bill to carry theſe reſolutions into effect.

A meſſage was received from the ſenate with the bill for altering the department of foreign affairs, into the department of ſtate, and attaching thereto certain additional duties. The ſalary bill for the officers of the executive department, the bill for compenſating the ſervices of the preſident and vice-preſident, and the bill for compenſating the members of both houſes, all with amendments. Adjourned.

TUESDAY, September 8.

Petitions from the freemen of the towns of Providence, Newport, &c. upon the operation of the collection and tunnage laws were read, and referred to a committee already appointed to take into conſideration the memorial reſpecting North-Carolina, &c.

Mr. Boudinot preſented a petition from ſundry inhabitants of the ſtate of New-Jerſey, chiefly practitioners in law, reſpecting the place pointed out in the judiciary bill for holding the diſtrict courts in Eaſt-New-Jerſey, and praying that Perth-Amboy may be the place for holding thoſe courts.

The houſe then took up the amendments of the ſenate to the bill for eſtabliſhing the ſalaries of the officers of the executive department.

The firſt amendment was to add 500 dollars to the ſalary of the ſecretary of ſtate—which being agreed to, his ſalary is 3500 dollars.

The ſecond was to reduce the ſalary of the auditor from 1500 dollars to 1250—this was diſagreed to.

The third, to ſtrike out 1600 dollars, the ſalary of the treaſurer, and inſert 2000. Diſagreed to.

The fourth, to ſtrike out 500 dollars from the ſalary of the governor of the weſtern territory.

This amendment was oppoſed, as involving diminution of a ſalary which was annexed to two very important and expenſive offices. The amendment was diſagreed to.

The fifth, to ſtrike out 1500 dollars, the ſalary of the aſſiſtant of the ſecretary of the treaſury, and to inſert 1700. Diſagreed to.

The ſixth was to give the clerk to the treaſurer, a ſalary of 600 dollars. Agreed to.

The ſeventh was to empower the heads of the departments to appoint their reſpective clerks. Agreed to.

And the laſt was to raiſe the ſalaries of the inferior clerks to 500 dollars—which was agreed to.

The amendment of the ſenate to the bill for allowing compenſations to the preſident and vice-preſident, was next taken up: The ſenate propoſed that the vice-preſident ſhould receive 6000 dollars per annum. This amendment was diſagreed to.

The amendments of the ſenate to the bill for allowing compenſations to the members of the two houſes, and their reſpective officers, were next read. In the firſt amendment the ſenate adheres to its former reſolution reſpecting a diſcrimination.

It was then moved, by Mr. Livermore, that the houſe ſhould recede from their diſagreement to this amendment of the ſenate.

This was ſeconded by Mr. Benſon—who obſerved, that the legiſlature is now brought into ſuch a ſituation, as that if the houſe ſhould refuſe to recede from their diſagreement, there is the greateſt danger of a diſſolution of the government: and as the diſcrimination is not to take place till the end of ſix years, it may be conſidered as an appeal to our conſtituents, who will undoubtedly determine the matter for the legiſlature in that period.

The vote being taken on the motion to recede, it paſſed in the negative. It was then voted that a conference ſhould be requeſted with the ſenate upon this buſineſs—and Meſſrs. Sherman, Tucker and Benſon, were appointed conferrees on the part of the houſe.

The amendments to the bill providing for the ſafe-keeping of the acts, records and great ſeal of the United States, &c. were read and agreed to by the houſe.

Mr. Carroll preſented a repreſentation from the inhabitants of George-town, on the Patowmack, on the ſubject of the permanent reſidence of congreſs. Read and laid on the table.

Mr. Gerry moved a reſolution to the following effect: That monies ſhall not be drawn from the treaſury unleſs by appropriations, made and confirmed by congreſs, ſubſequent to the 4th of March laſt. Laid on the table.

In committee of the whole on the bill for eſtabliſhing judicial courts. Some progreſs was made in the 4th ſection. Adjourned.

WEDNESDAY, September 9.

The houſe went into a committee on the bill for eſtabliſhing the judiciary department. Some further progreſs was made in the bill, when the committee roſe and aſked for leave to ſit again.

THURSDAY, September 10.

Mr. Partridge, from the committee, reported, that they had examined the enrolled bill to provide for the ſafe-keeping of the acts, records, ſeal, &c. of the United States, and found it truly copied from the original; alſo the bill for eſtabliſhing the ſalaries of the executive officers. The ſpeaker ſigned the ſame.

Mr. Boudinot preſented a petition from ſundry inhabitants of the county of Eſſex, praying that the diſtrict courts might be held in Perth-Amboy.

Mr. Goodhue, from the committee, reported a bill to relieve the citizens of North-Carolina and Rhode-Iſland, by ſuſpending, until the day of next, ſo much of the tunnage act as ſubjected the veſſels of thoſe ſtates to the ſame duty as foreign ſhips.

This bill was ordered to be engroſſed.

Mr. Sherman, from the committee of conference, to whom were referred the diſagreeing votes of both houſes, on the ſubject of the compenſations of the members, reported, that the committee had come to no agreement with the committee of the ſenate; but that they had thought proper to recommend, as a conciliatory meaſure, that the houſe ſhould concur with the ſenate, with an amendment, limiting the duration of the act.

A motion was then made, "that the houſe recede from their diſagreement to the amendment, and concur with an amendment."—The amendment was, "that the act ſhould continue in force ſeven years only."

This motion brought on a warm debate. The arguments that had been before uſed againſt a diſcrimination in the compenſation of the two houſes were repeated with vehemence. It was contended, that though the motion was for eſtabliſhing the diſcrimination only for one year, yet it was a ſufficient recognition of the principle; and if this principle was in itſelf improper, it was wrong, in a meaſure which was intended as an appeal to the people, to eſtabliſh a precedent to influence the meaſures of a future congreſs.

On the other hand, the propriety of a concurrence was inferred from the danger of loſing the bill, and from the indelicacy of forcing the ſenate to receive a compenſation, which they did not think adequate to their ſervices.

Mr. Boudinot was for rejecting the amendment of the ſenate, and bringing in a new bill limited to two years, and then he ſaid the appeal to the people would be made on equal terms.

The queſtion on concurring was then put, and the yeas and nays being called, were as follow:

AYES.—Meſſrs. Ames, Baldwin, Benſon, Brown, Cadwalader, Clymer, Fitzſimons, Gale, Gerry, Griffin, Hartley, Huntington, Lawrence, Lee, Livermore, Madiſon, Moore, Muhlenberg, Scott, Sherman, Smith, (S. C.) Trumbull, Vining, Wynkoop.——24.

NOES.—Meſſrs. Bland, Boudinot, Burke, Carroll, Coles, Contee, Floyd, Foſter, Gilman, Goodhue, Grout, Hathorn, Heeſter, Jackſon, Matthews, Page, Parker, Partridge, Renſellaer, Schureman, Seney, Sylveſter, Sinnickſon, Smith (M.) Stone, Sumpter, Thatcher, Tucker, White.——29.

By this vote the compenſation bill was loſt.

The committee, on the petition of the public creditors, and other citizens of Philadelphia, reported, that the petition deſerved the attentive conſideration of congreſs; but as the preſent ſeſſion was ſo ſhort, and it was neceſſary to diſpatch much important buſineſs now before congreſs, it became impracticable to give the ſubject, this ſeſſion, the attention which it merited.—They therefore ſubmitted a reſolution to the following effect: That it highly concerns the honour and intereſt of the United States to make ſome early and effectual proviſion in favour of the public creditors of the union, and that the houſe would, early next ſeſſion, take this ſubject into conſideration."

This report was laid on the table.

Mr. Boudinot then moved, that a committee be appointed to bring in a bill to eſtabliſh the compenſation of the members and the officers of both houſes, for one year.

It being ſuggeſted by the ſpeaker that it would be proper to delay this matter till the ſenate had been informed of the vote of the houſe, the motion was laid on the table. Then the houſe adjourned.

FRIDAY, September 11.

The engroſſed bill for ſuſpending the operation of part of the tunnage act, was read the third time—the ſuſpenſion to continue till the fifteenth of January next.

It was then paſſed to be enacted.

Mr. Burke moved, that the houſe ſhould reconſider the vote of yeſterday, not to recede from their diſagreement to the amendment propoſed by the ſenate to the bill for allowing compenſation to the members and officers of both houſes.

Mr. Madiſon ſuppoſing that the bill was loſt by the vote of yeſterday, queried whether it was in order to re-conſider that vote, or whether ſuch a vote could be ſaid to reſtore the bill. The affirmative of this inquiry, he conceived, involved many difficulties: It would extend to the repealing the laws, as well as to reviving them without going through thoſe previous formalities which are required by the conſtitution.

Mr. Sherman, Mr. Gerry and Mr. Lawrence, obſerved, that the bill could not be conſidered as loſt, as the houſe had directed the clerk to inform the ſenate of what had taken place; the ſenate being adjourned their opinion could not be known. The bill and the vote were ſtill in poſſeſſion of the houſe; nor could there be a doubt that the law, if now completed by a concurrence in the amendment of the ſenate, would not be as valid as any law that had been enacted.

It being doubted whether the motion was in order, the ſpeaker gave his opinion that it was ſtrictly ſo; and appealing to the houſe, they confirmed his determination.

Mr. Burke's motion for reconſidering being put, and the ayes and noes called—were, ayes 29, noes 25—majority for reconſidering, 4.

On the queſtion for receding from the diſagreement to the amendment of the ſenate, and to agree thereto with their propoſed amendments, the ayes and noes being called—were, ayes 28, noes 26. This motion being determined in the affirmative, ſaved the bill.

In committee of the whole on the bill for eſtabliſhing judicial courts.

Mr. Boudinot in the chair.

The committee proceeded in the diſcuſſion as far as the 16th ſection, they then roſe, and the houſe adjourned.

SATURDAY, September 12.

A meſſage was received from the ſenate by Mr. Secretary Otis, with the bill for eſtabliſhing the compenſations of the members of the two houſes, and their reſpective officers, concurring in the amendment of the houſe, to the amendment of the ſenate.

In committee of the whole on the bill for eſtabliſhing judicial courts.

Mr. Boudinot in the chair.

The committee proceeded in the diſcuſſion as far as the 28th ſection, when they roſe and reported progreſs, and the houſe adjourned.

MONDAY, September 14.

The committee appointed to examine the enrolled bills, reported that the bill for eſtabliſhing the compenſations of the members of both houſes and their reſpective officers, having been examined, was found correct. The ſpeaker then affixed his ſignature to the ſame.

A memorial from the baron de Stuben, was read and laid on the table.

The memorial of the weighers and gaugers of the city of New-York, praying that their fees may be enhanced, was read a ſecond time.

A meſſage was received from the ſenate, with the bill for ſuſpending the operation of a clauſe in the collection law, in which they have concurred, with amendments. Alſo the bill for ſuſpending the operation of a clauſe in the tunnage act, non-concurred.

The amendments propoſed by the ſenate to the reſolution of the houſe providing for amendments to the conſtitution, were read, and, on motion, it was voted that a number of copies be ſtruck off for the uſe of the members.

The amendments to the bill for ſuſpending the clauſe in the collection law, were then read, and acceded to on the part of the houſe.

Theſe amendments provide for the relief of Rhode-Iſland and North-Carolina, in lieu of the proviſion intended by the ſuſpenſion of part of the tunnage act.

The houſe then went into a committee of the whole on the judicial bill.

Mr. Smith, (S. C.) propoſed the following amendment to the 29th ſection, which reſpected juries, viz. That all juries which ſhall be ſummoned to ſerve in the courts of the United States, ſhall be formed according to the laws of each ſtate reſpectively. This amendment was adopted.

Mr. Burke moved to inſert the following clauſe in the ſame ſection, viz. In caſes of felony and treaſon, the offender ſhall be indicted and tried in the county, town or diſtrict, wherein the offence ſhall have been committed, as hath been uſual in each ſtate before this law was enacted. This was carried in the affirmative. The committee this day finiſhed the diſcuſſion of this bill, which was reported to the houſe.

Mr. Ames, of the committee appointed to bring in a bill upon the ſubject of a permanent reſidence, purſuant to the reſolution paſſed by the houſe, brought in a report, which was read the firſt time. Adjourned.

TUESDAY, September 15.

The bill for eſtabliſhing the permanent reſidence, was read the ſecond time, and referred to a committee of the whole, to be taken up on Thurſday next.

The enrolled bill for ſuſpending a part of the collection law, was brought in and ſigned by the ſpeaker.

A petition from the inhabitants of the town of Portſmouth, in Virginia, repreſenting the hardſhips they ſuffer from not having a naval-office eſtabliſhed in that place, and praying that an officer may be eſtabliſhed there, was read and laid on the table.

The houſe then took up the amendments to the judicial bill, agreed to by the committee of the whole.

Mr. Seney moved, as an amendment in the 3d ſection, to inſert Cheſter-town, inſtead of Eaſton, in Maryland, as the place for holding the diſtrict courts. This, after ſome debate, was negatived. Mr. Seney calling for the ayes and noes, there were 23 noes—20 ayes.

A meſſage was received from the ſenate, by Mr. Secretary Otis, informing that they had paſſed a bill for the eſtabliſhment of the poſt-office, and deſired the concurrence of the houſe.

The houſe proceeded in conſidering the amendments to the judiciary bill, but adjourned without completeing the buſineſs.

PARIS, July 30.

MONECKAR arrived at Verſailles on Tueſday evening laſt, and this morning he came to the Hotel de Ville, where he was received with every mark of joy and ſatisfaction. He was eſcorted from the bridge at Seve by a large party of horſe of the Paris militia, who alſo returned with him to the ſame place.

On Tueſday laſt the marquis de la Fayette performed the ceremony of incorporating the French guards, under the appellation of GARDES DE LA NATION, by which they are henceforward to be diſtinguiſhed.

The FORM of the NEW CONSTITUTION of FRANCE.

The committee has reported its deliberations on the ſubject of the new form of government. The archbiſhop of Bourdeaux, M. de Clermont Tonnere and M. Mounier, read the preliminary obſervations on this important object, before the national aſſembly. The Abbe Syeyes has likewiſe made known his very valuable treatiſe on the rights of mankind. M. Mounier has done the ſame. Both point to the ſame object, though they take different ways to come at it.

The principal heads of the form of government, which the committee has recommended, are as follow:——

That the national aſſembly ſhall be compoſed of two houſes of parliament. (The committee all agree in this point, but they find a difficulty to decide in what manner the two chambers of parliament ſhall be organized;) ſome are of opinion, that both ſhould be elective; others, that the king ſhould have the power to nominate the members of the firſt, in the ſame manner as our houſe of lords is created.

That the ſtates-general ſhould be permanent, and meet yearly.

That the king ſhall have the treaſury of the ſtate under his protection.

That he ſhall have the ſupreme and abſolute command over the army.

That he ſhall have the nomination to all places, civil as well as eccleſiaſtical.

That he ſhall have a revenue for the maintenance of his dignity, even more conſiderable than he has allowed him at preſent.

Such are the principal points on which the conſtitution is to be raiſed.

The following are authentic copies of the letter of the king of France to Mr. Neckar, and his anſwer.

"I have been deceived reſpecting you. Violence has been committed on my character. Behold me at length enlightened. Come, Sir, come without delay, and reſume your claim to my confidence, which you have acquired for ever. My heart is known to you. I expect you, with all my nation, and I very ſincerely ſhare in its impatience. On which, I pray God, Sir, until your return, to take you into his holy and worthy keeping.

"LOUIS."

Anſwer of Mr. Neckar, dated Geneva, July 23, in the evening, and received by his majeſty the 26th.

"SIRE,

"I have this inſtant received the letter with which it has pleaſed your majeſty to honour me. I want expreſſions to teſtify to you the tender emotions I have experienced on the return of your favour; it penetrates me more and more with the obligation I had long impoſed on myſelf, of always diſtinguiſhing in your majeſty the juſt prince, the honeſt man, who can operate only the happineſs of the nation, when he acts from himſelf, from the powerful monarch who governs it, and who is frequently expoſed to do what is repugnant to his heart.

"I only take the time, Sire, to wipe away the tears which your letter has made me ſhed, and I fly to obey your orders. I ſhall not bear to you my heart; that is a property you have acquired by a thouſand titles, and to which I no longer have any claim.

"I reckon with impatience, and am ſtriving to accelerate the moments which are neceſſary for me to proceed to offer you the laſt drop of my blood, my feeble talents, my entire devotion to your ſacred perſon, and the profound reſpect with which I am,

Sire,

Your majeſty's moſt humble,

Moſt obedient,

And moſt zealous ſervant,

NECKAR."

Mr. Neckar arrived at Verſailles on Tueſday night in perfect health, and yeſterday at 2 o'clock waited on the national aſſembly, where he was received with ſuch applauſes and emotions, far beyond all applauſes, as conſtitute the moſt glorious recompence this world is able to beſtow on virtue.

St. JOHN, (N. Brunſwick) Auguſt 21.

His excellency the lieutenant-governor, by proclamation bearing date the 7th inſt. is pleaſed to allow for a longer time the importation of horſes, neat cattle, ſheep, hogs, poultry, or live ſtock of any ſort—Wheat, rye, rice or Indian corn, and the flour of wheat or rye, to be imported by Britiſh ſubjects, &c. agreeable to law, for and during the term of ſix months, commencing from the date of the proclamation.

PHILADELPHIA, September 19.

Yeſterday arrived here the ſhip Ceſar, captain Miller, from Hayre-de-Grace, which ſhe left on the 3d Auguſt.—By this veſſel we learn that the people of France have at length prevailed in their attempts to reform the government of that kingdom, ſo as to place the liberties of its citizens on a more equal and permanent eſtabliſhment. We have no detail of the important tranſactions which led to this event, but that the people and the national troops united for the accompliſhment of the grand object, and had the entire poſſeſſion of the caſtles and ſea-ports in the north of France; the foreign troops having all been ordered out of the kingdom. That the Baſtile was totally demoliſhed, and the governor's head cut off and ſtuck on a pole.

The above, with the following extracts, are all the particulars we are enabled at preſent to lay before the public, reſpecting this very intereſting revolution.

Extract of a letter from Havre-de-Grace, July 31.

"The captain will inform you of the very extraordinary revolution which has taken place in this country. It now appears that the large ſupplies of grain and flour bought by the agents of government at very advanced prices, were intended for an army aſſembled at Paris. By the ſpirit and ſteadineſs of the people, they have gained their point. The army has been ſent back from whence they came. Our national aſſembly are now forming a new conſtitution, and the proviſions collected for the army have been ſent up from the ſea-ports to the relief of Paris."

Extract of a letter from Paris, dated July 20, received by the ſhip Ceſar.

"There has been much diſturbance here for ten days paſt. I have been obliged to mount guard almoſt day and night. All is now ſettled. The Baſtile was taken by ſtorm in a few hours; the governor killed and beheaded, as was the provoſt-marſhal, for having betrayed the country—all the miniſters diſmiſſed. The Baſtile is now demoliſhed, as well as the arſenal."

NORFOLK, September 12.

Extract of a letter from a gentleman in North-Carolina, dated September 3, 1789.

"From the elections which have taken place for members to our convention, which is to meet in November, I think you may reſt aſſured, that this ſtate will adopt the new conſtitution."

ALEXANDRIA, September 24.

Extract of a letter from Jefferſon county, (Kentucky) to the writer's friend in this town, dated July 30 1789.

"Pleaſe to inform Mr. K. that the brother of his ſpouſe was killed by the Indians laſt May, and about three weeks ago, the Indians broke open captain Richard Chenoweth's houſe, killed three of his children and ſcalped them, wounded and ſcalped his wife—They wounded him alſo, very ſeverely, and three more of his children; but they eſcaped without being ſcalped, and are likely to get over it."

"In our laſt paper we announced the death of the honourable JOHN ROGERS, Eſquire, chancellor of this ſtate. He departed this life about 11 o'clock on Wedneſday night the 23d inſtant. A few hours previous to his diſſolution, he received the holy ſacrament from the hands of the reverend Mr. Higinbothom, at which awful ceremony, and during the whole course of his illness, he exhibited a manly fortitude of mind, and a truly Christian resignation of spirit, to the will of his Maker. On the Friday following his remains were attended to the place of interment by a numerous and respectable body of the inhabitants, whose feelings, on that occasion, testified a sincere respect and affection for their departed fellow-citizen. His talents and integrity in the high office he held, have added reverence and honour to his name. As a husband, a parent and a master, he can only be described by those who have experienced his virtues in these capacities. His affability and constant cheerfulness of temper, which the anguish of a painful disorder could never quite extinguish, and not often interrupt, endeared him to his acquaintances. In a word, the public and private virtues of this valuable man render his loss a subject of real concern and importance to his country, of deep affliction to his family, and sincere sorrow to his friends."

To the FREEMEN of ANNE-ARUNDEL COUNTY.

GENTLEMEN,

THE near approach of the election, has induced me to notify, that I shall not be a candidate to represent you the ensuing year.—In doing which, permit me to return you my sincere thanks for the repeated marks of confidence with which you have honoured me.—At present, I am persuaded, that the establishment of the new constitution has rendered the happiness prosperity of the people of Maryland very little dependent on those internal regulations which remain within the limits of state legislation.—Under these impressions, I could entertain no hopes of effecting any measures that could materially promote the public interest, and my private business requires my immediate attendance elsewhere.—Should, however, any future occasion occur that may require the free opinions and determined conduct of the friends of the American revolution, I beg leave to assure my fellow-citizens of Anne-Arundel, that I will be among the foremost to offer my services, and solicit again the honour of their suffrages.
